“ I can't imagine the loss this family is feeling right now, all I can do is wish each of you strength.

You were my best friend at one time in the seemingly distant past. We had so much fun together back when we were kids; and just starting high school. There's not a single memory I have of you without that big smile on your face. I couldn't look at you without smiling too; and now all I can do is promise when I think of you I'll try my best to remember all the tiny moments of happiness and fun we had together. I will miss seeing him around...a lot.

I'm not going to embarrass my mom- but he and I probably laughed the hardest that either of us will ever laugh again, ever! -at something that happened to her...like it was starting to really hurt we were laughing so hard....I'll never forget trying to catch our breaths together after that...and just when we thought we were finally done laughing, we'd look at each other and start laughing again. That had to have happened like 15 times(seriously)....

I'll never forget that moment with you, and I'm so thankful I got to share it with you Andrew.

“ Rest in Peace old friend. I hadn't spoke to him in a lot of years. We kind of lost touch as people do throughout their lives but I'll never forget some of the great times we shared growing up.
