“ I just found out about the passing of this wonderful woman who was so dear to my heart. I have such wonderful memories of Ann, Charles, and Charlie that I will always cherish. I pray God wraps His loving arms around the family bringing peace and comfort in the days ahead as only He can. And in those times when grief seems to grip so tightly that you feel like you can't catch your breath, I pray God will bring all of the good memories flooding back to your minds and fill your hearts with joy at the promise that you will one day see each other again in a place where there will be no more sorrow.
