“ We will miss Jim at the Farmington Senior Center....and I will miss his friendly smile and conversation when we happened to see each other at the library and the Dean Danley Park. I do regret that I never got to ride on his motorcycle, but then I did not ask! :) My condolences to the family of a remarkable man who believed in giving back to the community and looked for the positive in life.

“ We and many others who walk or volunteer at the Farmington First Baptist Church were saddened to read about Jim's death on Friday. He was very faithful to his walking and exercise routine and was a joy to visit with. He always had fishing and motorcycling stories to share. Our sympathy to his family.

“ Bob, so sorry for the loss of your brother, Jim. While, I was not acquainted with Jim, I do know he came from good "stock" based on knowing Bob. I am certain the world will be a lesser place because of his passing.

“ Jim has been a very vital part of the Farmington Senior center for many years. He volunteered delivering meals, He kept us entertained with his stories . He would arrive about 6:30 am at the back kitchen door. He would then go into our library and Eat his morning concoction for breakfast and watch the St. Louis morning news Channel 2. He would float in and out during the morning. I was shocked when I saw the obituary this morning. He will be very missed by staff and all the participants of the Senior Center. Prayers for your family. Mona Yates , Adminstrator Farmington Senior Center
