“ I met Jack and Mary at Burkempers restaurant when I started dating my husband, Joey, who worked in the restaurant's kitchen. They were always so nice and Mary and I bonded over the fact that I worked as a school librarian. I would always try to visit the restaurant when the Gibbs's would be there. They attended our wedding, and later, when we had our kids, Mary would shower them with love and gifts as if they were her own grandkids. Every time we'd visit the restaurant she'd have us sit by her, or she'd come over and just "take the babies off of my hands." After the restaurant closed we'd still send Christmas cards to our kids' bonus grandparents. She will be greatly missed.

“ I guess being my friend was unusual because I'm the ex-Wife of Jack. We shared our children and grandchildren through the years. She was so good to them and they loved her. Mary was a great lady and will be missed by a lot of people.

“ Grandma Mary was the sweetest most cuddly person I looked forward to seeing as a child. I aspire to be just as sweet to my own grandchildren one day. She taught me a lot of life lessons that I will continue to pass down through the generations. I hope and pray she is at rest now and no longer in pain. Her personality shows in the pictures I've attached ;)

“ To Jack and Mary's family . I am so sorry for your loss. We met Mary at church and they became friends to my parents . We had 2 kids then and she and Jack watched us have 4 kids and they watched over them in the church nursery. They watched me lose my mom to breast cancer and Mary and Jack would help babysit for us . Mary was like a surrogate mother to me and she watched us be blessed with our 5 th child . Mary was in the delivery room with me and watched me give birth to our last baby our 3rd daughter . I know she loved our kids like her own grand kids . Our kids are very sad there grandma Mary is not here but know they have another grandma angel . My favorite memory is her telling our preacher how amazing childbirth was and I gave her that gift . God bless rest in peace Mary you touched many babies and adults .
