“ Well this precious Saint of God

Was very dear and precious to my heart and Life we did not know each other long at all. But God gave me a true true gift with Her. Yes He did. We shared God's Word With each other in great excitement I would go to her with new things that God would reveal to me has I would study to bring a new lesson For Sunday And when she could no longer come with me in class I would go to her in Her Room and share.

The lesson of the week with her

She said to me I do not know why God still wants me here and I said for me. So in the end I begin to pray for Her to be able to go on and be there with the Lord. Because she was becoming so miserable in this earthly body because she could no longer care for her self any longer. And I know she is so very happier there. Whole and Present with Our Lord. And bathing in all Her Heavenly rewards she has gathered from her service down here below. And I know I know very soon we to shall all be together with Him. Where there will be no parting ever again. But until that day and until that time we have still been mandated be about the Father s business and His truth. Until that day comes. And I know I would do a great injustice to God and to Her To not to continue on the call upon my life and For The Kingdom Of For there is no more time to play church. It is time to be the church. For the lost and hurting world which is in Great Great Need Of Our Lord My condolences to of Her Love ones And Friends and Her extended families every were. My love and prayers Go out to all of you at this time I pray You Draw close unto The Lord

That you Allow to Hold you In His Loving Arms Has Only He Can. For only In Him and Him alone Can we find Love Peace and comfort and strength that is only found in Him and Him alone. For He is ever present in our greatest times of need

We're He telles us in His Precious Word. Come unto me all. Notice He does not state some not a few. Buf He says all that our heavy Laden for I will give to rest. The Great I Am is all that we will ever have need of for He is truly our everything. For He came to be the solution to things in this world.
